

Social Welfare Advice for Asylum Seekers

The Social Welfare Advice for Asylum Seekers in Schwandorf District Administration Office is directed towards people who are in an asylum process including those who have not yet received a residency permit and are staying in decentralised accommodation. In future the advice provided should also be extended to the reception centre and newly-created communal accommodation. Asylum-seekers living in communal accommodation already existing in Pfreimd, Teublitz, Schwandorf-Dachelhofen and Neunburg vorm Wald will continue to be looked after by the Caritas catholic relief services in Schwandorf administrative district.

The advice should make it easier for asylum-seekers to come to terms with their new country, new town and their new situation. Through providing orientation assistance, advice and information, as well as practical support too in some cases, those people concerned should be placed in a position to better overcome everyday problems which arise.

Social welfare advice for asylum seekers provides advice and support for asylum seekers with all the concerns of everyday life.

They provide basic information on official procedures and in particular on asylum processes as well as on the rights and obligations arising from these.

Social welfare advice for asylum seekers provides support for people in special need of help and protection and to those in severe crises situations.

Apart from this the advice team negotiates in quarrels in the social environment and what is more advises on schools and academic, work-related and economic questions.

Social welfare advice for asylum seekers provides information on assistance programs for returning to the home country and support when preparing for a return home.

It supports honorary involvement and is available as a contact partner for questions on working in an honorary capacity.

With regular consulting hours the Social Welfare Advisers for Asylum Seekers attend in the communities in person, in order to guarantee that they can be more easily reached.

The Social Welfare Advice for Asylum Seekers in Schwandorf District Administration Office can be reached in the basement floor in Room no. U28 or by telephoning tel. number 09431/471-397.
